SLIDESHOW NIGHT WITH STEPHEN FABES

6-year cycling adventure across 6 continents

B:loft is pleased to announce Slideshow Night with Stephen Fabes, London-based doctor, writer and adventurer. Taking place in Rotondes on March 18th at 19:00, the event is designed not only for bicycle users, but also for adventure lovers (free entry).

For six years, from 2010 to 2016, Stephen Fabes pedaled across 75 different countries, clocking up a distance of 86,209 km (54,000 miles) by bicycle – a distance equivalent to more than twice the circumference of the earth, 25 times the Tour de France's. From the war-struck deserts of Syria and Afghanistan to an outstandingly untoasty Mongolia mid-winter, Stephen Fabes dodged landslides and leaping camel spiders, was detained on suspicion of espionage in China, survived blizzards and tropical storms.

Along the way Stephen Fabes spent time among marginalised people with health problems. He was interested in marginalisation and health, and visited remote clinics and medical projects. He is currently writing a book about his epic journey.

Following the presentation, Betty Buvette will serve a special menu inspired by Stephen Fabes' cycling adventure. The menu will be a fusion of culinary traditions (dhaal à la noix de coco, falafel, som tum, naan bread). Tickets (€ 7+fee) are available at www.rotondes.lu.

After the delicious filling meal, B:loft invites you to a night bike ride in search of great panoramic views of Luxembourg-City. This will be a short and easy (ca. 4km), non-sportive urban bike ride suitable for everyone. We will cycle on bike paths or calm roads. The track will be revealed en route.
